Prevention Control and Detection Control in the Baby Walker Produce Design

Abstract

The risks of the design and development stages in the baby walker product design. The main content can be divided into three parts: 1. The need for design and development in the baby walker product, 2. The risk of design and development stages in the baby walker product, 3. The control of design and development stages in the baby walker product.

Keywords: Baby walker, design and development stages, FMEA, prevention and control.