An Analysis of Qinguan’s Review on Wang Po

Chung-Chih Chang, Associate Professor, General Education Center, Far East University
Chuan-Cheng Kang, Associate Professor, General Education Center, Far East University
Yiao-Hwei Chuang, Professor, General Education Center, Far East University

Abstract

Qinguan’s Treatise on Wang Po is the last review of his fifty political treatises. It aimed to highly praise Wang Po’s political proposal of suppressing the frontier. He appreciated Wang Po’s real talent for quelling. Qinguan thought himself as an unrecognized talent before he achieved the Jin Shih degree in the palace examination. The term real talent he regarded Wang Po was actually Qinguan’s self-projection.

Keywords: Qinguan, Review on Wang Po, prose, historical treatise, political treatises